THE AMERICAN GEOGRAPHICAL SOCIETY

IN 1852 a group of farsighted business and professional men in New York City, recognizing their growing need for accurate knowledge concerning various parts of the world, created a central clearinghouse of geographical information—the American Geographical Society. The purpose of the founders was to advance the science of geography, by discussion and publication; to establish in the chief city of the United States a place where accurate information on every part of the globe could be obtained; and to encourage exploration and research.

The publications of the Society are varied. The Geographical Review, its long-established quarterly, offers authoritative original articles on all aspects of the discipline. The monthly periodical, Focus, presents brief up-to-date surveys of nations, with emphasis on the developing countries and their economic, social, and political problems. Soviet Geography: Review and Translation makes available monthly in English important articles from the Soviet professional literature. Books and monographs appear at intervals in the Research, Special Publications, and other series.

The Society's library is one of the largest geographical collections in the world. Its catalogue is based on a scheme of classification specially devised for purposes of geographical research, and it issues a monthly bibliographical periodical, Current Geographical Publications. The map collection is preeminent in selective and comprehensive world coverage; not only sheet maps but maps contained in books and periodicals are entered in the map catalogue.

For many years the Society has promoted studies relating to questions of wide public interest; for example, pioneer settlement, polar exploration, and conservation of resources. Current research includes studies on perception of the environment and on glacier fluctuations. The Serial Atlas of the Marine Environment and the Antarctic Map Folio Series present in continuing map form results of interdisciplinary research in the physical sciences.

Membership in the Society is open to anyone, and comprises ten categories. Fellows pay annual dues of $25.00; Sustaining Fellows, annual dues of $50.00; and Contributing Fellows, annual dues of $100.00. Life Fellows contribute $300; Patrons, $1000; and Benefactors, $5000. The other classes of membership are Student Associates, who pay annual dues of $10.00 (and whose student status must be attested by a professor); Subscribing Fellows and Library Associates, who pay annual dues of $40.00; and Corporation Associates, who pay annual dues of $750.00. Fellows and Associates are entitled to the Geographical Review, Focus, and the newsletter, Ubique (Subscribing Fellows, Library Associates, and Corporate Associates receive Current Geographical Publications also), to the use of the library and map room, and to consultation with members of the staff. They may purchase the Society's publications at substantial discounts. Anyone interested in becoming a Fellow or Associate is encouraged to write to the Society, Broadway at 156th Street, New York, N. Y. 10032, for information. The Society is tax-exempt under Section 501 (c) (3) of the Internal Revenue Code.
